

U. A. C. PERIWIG CLUB TO GIVE PLAY AT LYRIC WED- NESDAY

A doctor by force a doctor, impromptu; who admits he is not a "mercenary doctor," who commends medicated cheese as a remedy for hypochondria; diagnoses dumbness by feeling the pulse; claims health to be something to be dreaded, and feels himself secure in his practice because of the discretion of the dead "A Doctor in Spite of Himself" makes true a medicinal play. As presented by the U. A. C. Periwig club in College chapel Friday afternoon it spreads a pure culture of bacillus jocundi throughout the appreciative audience and caused certain humor to arise from the "convexity of the diaphragm" and trickle upwards along the sensitive side slats of the human trunk. The doctor is reputed to have raised the dead. After seeing the play you will agree as to his powers to raise the living dead.

The cast is made up of the best talent the college has produced; truly without a peer in college dramatic history. There are ten of them and in this rare play of imitable foolery, they can make more fun for you than ten fools of the court.

Elroy Christiansen in the title part reveals in a protean manner the subtle "whimsies" of Signarelle.

Mae Edwards in Martine, wife of the doctor, fulfills the expectation of her admirers. Leora Thatcher gives an animated and delightful interpretation of Jacqueline, the nurse; while Claire Cardon as the much loved dumb daughter, is charming enough to make the enthusiastic aggression of her ardent lover, played so well by Stanley Prescott, seem extremely consistent.

The versatility of Nancy Finch as Eleanora Amussen is exhibited to a nicety in the character parts of Perrin, the peasant boy, and M. Roberts, neighbor of Signarelle respectively.

Chinese Love Horses.

China is one of the last of the nations of the world to adopt and enjoy the motorcar. Indeed, the conservative Chinese shrank from anything that seems to cast any aspersions upon horses, for equines have played a big part in tradition, history and the life of that mysterious land in the far East.

D. Earl Robinson made his friends enthuse in the come-back he staged, in portraying the part of Geronte, father of Lucinda. Coulson Wright, as Valere, servant to Geronte and W. I. Youiter as Lucas, husband of the coquettish nurse, make consistent contributions to a dramatic team, the rival of which has never been brought together on college hill.

The play is of such merit that the able director, Miss Sara Huntsman, has decided to give the townspeople an opportunity to see Wednesday evening in the Lyric theatre.

The Famous Artists

of Europe and America are making records for Pathe, because they know that only on Pathe records are they sure that every shading and every expression of the selections as they interpret them, are faithfully reproduced. You can hear the best songs and operatic arias, the popular marches and symphonies on Pathe records.

Keep up with Broadway. Pathe has the latest hits first and best; the new songs that Broadway is exhibiting; the popular one-step, jazz and fox trot. The best orchestration of the new songs, and the most unusual novelties are always found on Pathe records.

And remember—every Pathe record guarantees to play 1,000 times.

LOGAN, UTAH

THRIFT AND PRODUCTION WILL OVER- COME HIGH PRICES

R. H. Ballard of Los Angeles, new president of the National Electric Light association, says:

"We have gone through a very strenuous war period and had many claims to meet but taking a broad view of things it is plain that our country as a whole is in good shape right now. The banking power of the U. S. is far greater now than ever in history; factories are operating at close to capacity in all lines; foreign countries are making a tremendous demand upon us for supplies and as soon as the public utility problem is fairly met as it must be—the country will be in shape to go ahead at even greater speed. Our savings per capita were $113 in 1918 as against $89 in 1914, and in addition to this our war savings were $9 per capita.

"That is just about equal to average increase in living expenses due to high prices, and with a continuance of the spirit of thrift and saving, prices will gradually come down as we reduce inflation in our money, which is largely the cause of high prices. We should continue in thrift and economy, avoiding extravagance and waste and in this connection should remember that thrift includes the continuance of production and useful expenditure."

Use for Waste Lands.

Every state in the union has some part of the swamp and wet lands that for the entire country have an aggregate area of 102,800,000 acres—larger than Iowa, Illinois and Indiana combined and three-fourths as large as France. The agricultural value of these lands varies considerably, but specialists of the United States department of agriculture believe that large areas, if properly drained and cleared by public or private co-operation, could be transformed into productive farms.

Right Definition of a Classic.

A classic is properly a book which maintains itself by virtue of that happy coincidence of matter and style, that innate and exquisite sympathy between the thought that gives life and the form that contains it, which can be simple without being vulgar, elevated without being distant, and which is something neither ancient nor modern always new and acceptable as growing old.—Lowell.
